

Media Op – Las Vegas Attack Predicted in 2008

Christian author Deborah Nazemi's predicted recent natural disasters and Las Vegas attack

AUSTIN, Texas, October 6, 2017 – Author and prophetic voice, Deborah Nazemi wrote in 2008, “There will be terror in Las Vegas, and many will die.” Deborah warned of coming disasters that could bring America to her knees in her book, Red Alert America, Sound the Alarm. She predicted that there would be unprecedented natural disasters such as, out of control forest fires and devastating floods, and that Texas and Florida would experience destructive hurricanes. “There will be terrorist attacks worse than 9-11”, says Deborah. “There will be more crushing disasters that claim lives and devastate homes.” But Deborah’s message is not all doom and gloom. Her book gives hope in the midst of crisis. These things were prophesied and written nine years before it happened, and they are unfolding before our eyes, just as she foretold.
